Tornado Warning

A tornado is possible.

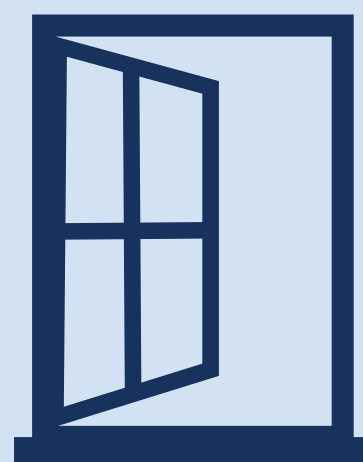

A tornado is happening or about to happen.

A tornado is a narrow, violently rotating column of air that extends from a thunderstorm to the ground.

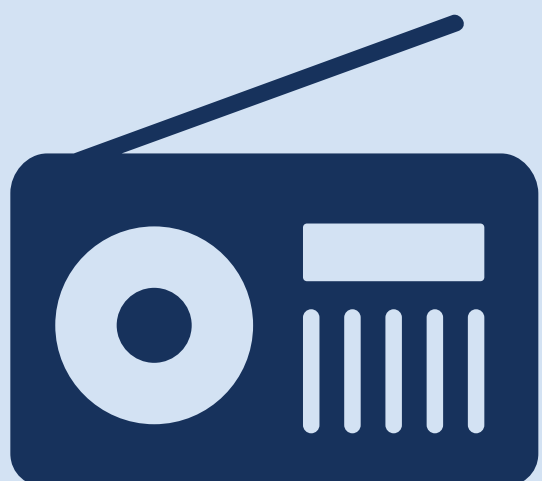

What To Do

Find a safe space in a basement or small interior room.

Stay away from windows, doors, and outside walls.

Listen to local media or tune in to a NOAA radio for updated weather reports.

Because wind is invisible, it is hard to see a tornado unless it forms a condensation funnel made up of water droplets, dust and debris.
